Oh the old farm house, how I've

dim:

sported round its hearth With my sis - ters and bro - thers so dear, How oft has it rung with our in - no - cent mirth; And hal - low'd our soft evening pray'r, But the old farm house now is

dim:

bow-ing to de-cay Its stones like dead friends lie a-part, But its

dear cherish'd im-age shall ne'er fade a-way From af-fec-tions do-main in my
